

January 2020

We are excited to launch the revised FarmSafe Manual and Workbook!

READ THE PRESS RELEASE HERE

The Alberta FarmSafe Plan is a resource to help you build a custom health and safety management system for your operation.

Who should use these resources?

As a farm owner, operator or manager, you are responsible for knowing and applying best safety management practices and for ensuring the safety of everyone who lives on, visits or works on your farm.

The safety planning guide and workbook can serve as a starting point for the development of a health and safety management system for your farm operation.

The guide and workbook can be found and downloaded at agsafeab.ca

Accompanying them is a learning portal with e-courses to support the manual and will soon also have courses for employees to take as well including PPE and WHMIS.

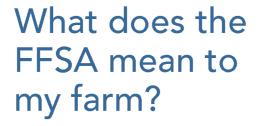

We are happy to provide a workshop in your area to help you get started.

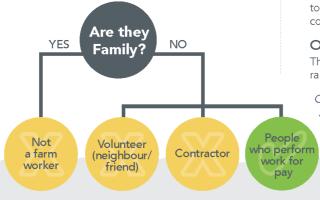

The Government of Alberta is introducing new legislation that will impact Alberta producers.

The Farm Freedom and Safety Act will change current employment standards, workers' compensation coverage, and occupational health and safety requirements for farmers. These changes come into effect January 31, 2020.

To request a free advisory visit and to learn what the Farm Freedom and Safety Act means to your farm, visit agsafeab.ca.

Employment Standards

These will only apply to farms with over 5 employees.

Insurance

Farms now have options to cover their employees. Investigate these options to ensure they provide enough coverage for your employees.

OHS Act

The Act applies to ALL farms and ranches with employees.

Changes come into effect January 31, 2020. Request a FREE advisory visit and find tools and resources for growing the safety culture on your farm at
